The Perfect Fit

Imagine a collage with a voice, a sassy one that knows just how fabulous you are. It's like, "Hey, you! Yes, you with the dazzling smile and the brain that could give Einstein a run for his money. You're the missing piece in our masterpiece of academia!" It's not every day that a collection of pictures and inspirational quotes gets personal, but when it does, it's like being chosen by a Hogwarts Sorting Hat that's into modern art. So, if a collage says you're the perfect fit, you strut into that interview room like it's a runway, because clearly, you're already a work of art in their eyes!
